Communication in projects
 „The world is changing – it is time to change our approach in international projects in order to adapt to global challenges.“
Dr. H. Maucher, former CEO, Nestle AG/Switzerland

Managing international („cross-border“) projects presents unique challenges. This workshop addresses success critical tools, skills and behaviors required to efficiently manage projects spanning national boundaries, cultural differences and organizations. Your learnings:

✔ Combining the the „hard skills” (e.g. time, cost calculation, risk analysis) of the different stakeholders in international projects with „soft skills” (dealing with different personalities from different cultural backgrounds and political contexts) – this is the challenge to be mastered.

... the general challenges

✔ Learn what makes global projects uniquely challenging by exploring success factors of internationally composed project teams on how – to perceive each other, solve problems/make decisions and execute tasks (i.e. understanding the impact of culture on multiple aspects of a project)

– to build-up trust and collaboration across various cultures, time zones and technological settings using proven communication channels (i.e. managing global teams and fostering a team culture of trust)
– to meet the challenges of applying success critical „hard” and „soft” tools and techniques (i.e. setting up an efficient collaboration framework based on „culturally indifferent” tools)

... the challenges and required competencies to move individuals forward

✔ Learn the outlines of the concept of excellence to serve as a guide for the company in assessing the ability of its project portfolio to achieve project excellence.

– The increasing importance and number of projects necessitates more project-oriented structures, processes and cultures as well as better synchronization with line activities.
– managing and controlling a project portfolio (incl. corporate governance)
– standardizing project reports for creating a project portfolio cockpit for the Steering Committee/Project Sponsor – initiating projects based on a project charter, structuring a project into stages (incl. milestones, closing projects based on a project closure report
– standardize a systematic project approach by compiling/adjusting a project management handbook/manual by integrating relevant templates using the worldwide PMI-standards
– prioritizing projects based on strategic goals and expected benefits (incl. mastering changes in the project portfolio)

...the challenges and required competencies to move a corporation forward

Herbert A. Jopp is a Senior Partner of Jopp & Partners Management Consulting Group, based in Frankfurt am Main, which he founded in 1983, and which is active throughout Europe today. At the present time, projects are being handled in 36 countries (from the project idea through to implementation) with the leaders in the particular business sectors (pharmaceuticals, banks, automotive, energy, media, large research institutes). The „tools” that are applied during the consulting work are the „ingredients” for this workshop. Herbert A. Jopp started his professional career with a Management Consultancy Firm in the US and later in various European countries. He holds degrees in Information Technology (US), Economics (Germany) and Business Administration (Belgium). He is lecturing Project Management and Change Management for more than 2 decades at Bonn University, Bielefeld University, Apollon University of applied science (Bremen) and Hamburg Media School. He also holds various advisory functions in Austria (Automotive Supplier, Waterpower Industry and a Foundation) as well as in Germany (Banking).

Ralf Mock Diplomkaufmann/MBA operates since 2016 as Executive Search Partner of Meyer & Söhne GmbH. From 1981 till 2002 he worked for Linde AG in various roles - Member of the Board Technoplyn AS in the Czech Republic - Linde Gas Division, Managing Director of the Linde Material Handling Division and Director Global Marketing for the whole group. In 2002 Mr. Mock was appointed as Member of the Board of Villeroy & Boch AG and was globally responsible for the Tableware Division. From 2006 till 2015 he took over the responsibility as Senior Vice President Europe Middle East Africa, based in London, for the US-group Hyster Yale Inc., a leading manufacturer of material handling equipment.

Andrea Redaelli is Principal Corporate Project and Portfolio Management at HUGO BOSS. He has more than 20 years of expertise in Business Reengineering, Supply Chain and Digital Transformation. Andrea Redaelli holds a Master Degree in Chemical Engineering from Politecnico di Milano and a Master Certification in General Management. He is member of the Project Management Institute (PMI), Council of Supply Chain Management Professionals (CSCMP) and Italian Association of Engineers. He is a required speaker on emerging technologies like Blockchain, Digital Customer Experience, Fintech, Artificial Intelligence and Robotic Process Automation. He is also a pro-bono mentor for young entrepreneurs. Thanks to his broad view and solid experience on business activities in high complex networks, Andrea Redaelli is a fast-thinker to advice on strategic decisions, organizations transformation and business development.
